OUR SERVICES

In today's competitive market place, mine planning is an absolute requirement of world's best mining practice. Mine planning is an essential component of efficient integrated mining operations, which provides the road map to optimum production outputs and thus maximises cost efficiency and performance.

Britmindo can provide a range of mine planning services ranging from short to long term planning at minesites, audits of site mine planning processes and procedures, assistance in setting up company mine planning systems, production scheduling and mine optimisations.

"Productivity is never an accident.
It is always the result of commitment to excellence, intelligent planning, and focused effort." - Paul J. Meyer
